H. E. DONALDSON,

THE WONDERS OF A WATCH.

Very few who carry a watch ever think of the unceasing labor it performs under what would be considered shabby treatment by any other machinery.

There are many who think that a watch ought to run for years without cleaning or a drop of oil. Read this and judge for yourself. The main wheel in an ordinary American watch makes four (4) revolutions a day of 24 hours, or 1,460 in a year. Next the center wheel 24 revolutions in a day, or 8,760 in a year The third wheel 192 in a day, or 859,080 in a year. The fourth wheel 2,440 in a day, or 545,600 in a year. The fifth, or escape wheel 12,960 in a day, or 4,728,300 in a year. The ticks or beats are 388 800 in a day or 141,812,000 in a year.

IMAGE WINS AGAIN.

Delmarch stock has taken another jump; Image, at present the speediest descendant of the old-tme king of trotters, won a hot race yesterday at Terre Haute, reducing her record to 2:19. The trick was done in the 3 year old, 2:40 class; stake $2,500. There were nine starters and the track was in good condition. Charley Doble, brother of Budd, drove the W. B. Page filly. Image lost the first heat to Wilmarch who also passed under the wire first in the second heat, which however was given by the judges to Image, as Wilmarch ran a good part of the mile. The Inter-Ocean in speaking of the contest says: "Image, the fast filly of the Doble stable, was the favorite in the 3-year-old trot, and she won it in great style over a good field, reducing her record to 2:19. It was a battle royal between Image and Wilmarch, 2:23, of the Antrim stable, and the latter in winning the first heat cut his mark down to 2:17¼."

Image's record is now 2:19, just a half second poorer than that of her sire when he was six years old. But 2:19 is not Image's limit; the little bay beauty will undoubtedly beat 2:15 this season. Following is the summary of the race:

Three-year- ld trotting, 2:40 class; stake..... $2,5000

Image, b f, by Delmarch (C. Doble)	2	1	1
Wilmarch, br, c, by Wilton (Cur)	1	2	2

Gumm—Gray.

Alida E. Gray and Geo. F. Gumm were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gray, in West Dixon last evening at nine o'clock. Rev. Earngy officiated, using the beautiful ceremony of the Methodist church, of which they were both members.

F. C. Buckingingham, of Chicago, acted as groomsman and Effie Doan, of LaSalle, bridesmaid. The bride wore a hansome grown of white fail silk and lace and carried bridal roses The bridesmaid wore cream cashmere and lace and carried roses. Little Grace Burright and Farth Neighbo ur were lovely in white as little flower girls. About one hundred and seventy five guests were present, among whom were:

Mr. and Mrs Doan and two daughters of LaSalle.

Misses Mable, Lucy and Lizzie Connely of Chicago.

Grace Barber, Eagleville, Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Strickland, Mrs. Nellie Long, Annie Carson, Mr. and Mrs. S. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Volney Bliss, Amboy.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Gray, Mrs. E. Holb, Edward and Phoebe Gray, Mrs. N Sennant and daughter, Nellie, May Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Fell, Mr. and Mrs Frank Hall, Mr. and Mrs. H. Adams, Hattie and Lumie Willis, Mary, Joe and Ed. Nicholson, of Lee Centre

Mr. and Mrs. Weigle and Lena Burkert, of Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Brewer, of Rock Falls.

The presents, of which there were many, were both useful and beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. Gumm took the night train for Niagara Falls, and will be at home at Rogers Park, Ill., after Sept. 15th.

District Lodge I O. G. T. Meeting

The District Lodge No. 1, I. O. G. T., closed its semi-annual session this afternoon. Nearly every lodge in the district was represented, and an interesting and profitable session was held commencing Wednesday, August 16. The report showed a good degree of interest, considering the many unfavorable influences of the summer season, the Columbian year and the financial stingency. A public meeting was held in Oak Park last evening, but owing to the lateness of the hour at which it commenced, a large portion retired before the arrival of the participants.

The meeting was presided over by R. J. Hazlett, District Councellor, of Rockford. A male quartette, which was to have furnished a part of the music, disappointed the Templars in not materializing. Rev. J. A. Matlack, of Chicago, delivered an earnest and well received address. Miss Emma Hineline, of Freeport, furnished some very skillfully executed banjo solos and Miss Nellie Moore, of Dixon, gave a recitation, picturing a country school house debate on the much vexed topic "Is life worth living?" At the business session of the lodge this forenoon (Aug 17), the following officers were elected:

District Chief Templar—C. A. Lucas, Dixon.
" Counsellor—R. J. Hazlett, Rockford.
" Superintendent of Juvenille Temple.—Miss Emma Hineline, Freeport.
" Vice Templar—Miss Clara Moore, Davis Junction
" Secretary—C. O. Miller, Rockford.
" Treasurer—W. G. Scott, Freeport.
" Marshal—J. N. Hineline, Freeport.
" Guard—Peter Sanford, Rockford.
" Sentinel—N. H. Weaver, Dixon.
" Chaplain—Mrs C. H. Stocks, East Dubuque.
Past District Chief Templar—C. H. Stocks, East Dubuque.
District Deputy Marshal—Mrs. W. Hineline, Freeport.
" Assistant Secretary—F. E. Imlach, Rockford.

—U. R. Friesenborg, who has recently came into control of the Amboy electric light system, was for a number of years a well-known citizen of Dixon, and in 1869 and '70 fired the boiler in the old Knitting Mills; ever since which time he has had experience in steam and electric machinery. In 1888 he passed examination and received in Chicago a license to run any stationery engine in the state. In 1890 in Duluth, Minnesota, he passed examination as second marine engineer on the lakes. For eight years he has handled dynamos and generators in both electric lighting and power work in Ashland, Wisconsin, and eleswhere, but last fall on account of his health had to seek a less rigorous climate. His recommendations as to efficiency and reliability embrace the names most prominent in the cities where he had operated and erected electric light plants, and our sister city is fortunate in securing his services.

—Charles Beal is visiting at the Jerry Moyer residence and with other relatives. He left Minneapolis on his bicycle last Saturday morning, rode leisurely, making many stops and arrived this afternoon. Mr. Beal was formerly a Dixon boy.

In Paint the best is the cheapest. Strictly Pure White Lead is best; properly applied it will not scale, chip, chalk, or rub off; it firmly adheres to the wood and forms a permanent base for repainting. Paints which peel or scale have to be removed by scraping or burning before satisfactory repainting can be done. When buying it is important to obtain properly made. Time has proven that white lead made by the "Old Dutch" process of slow corrosion possesses qualities that cannot be obtained by any other method of manufacture. This process consumes four to six months time, and produces the brands that have given White Lead its character as the standard paint.

"Southern" "Red Seal"
"Collier" "Shipman"

are standard brands of strictly pure Lead made by the "Old Dutch" process. You get the best in buying them. You can produce any desired color by tinting these brands of white lead with National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors.

For sale by the most reliable dealers in Paints everywhere.

If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card to do so.

CHANGE OF FRONT

Adopted by the Hawkeye State Republicans.

PROHIBITION DROPPED AS AN ISSUE

And About Sure To Be Wiped Out as a Statute—Jackson Carries Off the Gubernatorial Persimmon—Return of an Old Party Wheelhorse to the Front—Ex-Senator Harlan the Temporary Chairman—The Ticket and Platform.

DES MOINES, Aug. 17.—The state Republican convention has chosen the following standard bearers for the coming election: For governor, F. D. Jackson, lieutenant governor, Warren S. Dungan; of Chariton; supreme judge, C. H. Robinson, of Storm Lake; railroad commissioner, J. W. Luke, of New Hampton; state superintendent of public instruction, Henry Sabin, of Des Moines. It took two ballots to decide the head of the ticket. On the first ballot Jackson got 493½ and his chief competitor 241½, the necessary vote being 603, and whole number of delegates 1,204. On the second ballot the changes were rapid until Jackson had 800 votes, when the nomination was made unanimous. The nominee is in New York on business and has not been in Iowa for two weeks.

Organization of the Convention.

The convention was an enthusiastic one, and a feature of it was the reappearance in politics of an old time leader as temporary chairman, Hon. James Harlan. His reappearance is widely recognized as a notable event. Mr. Harlan is one of Iowa's most honored and distinguished men, and yet he has been in retirement so long that he is practically unknown to this generation. He has been three times elected Iowa's United States senator, and was called to the post of secretary of the interior by Abraham Lincoln, near the end of the war. He is now 73 years old, but well preserved and vigorous. T. M. Treynor, of Pottawattamie county, was temporary secretary.

Stands on the Platform of 1892.

On taking the chair Senator Harlan quite elaborately reviewed the platforms of the two dominant parties during the last campaign, the causes leading to present conditions and the remedy. He stood squarely on the national Republican platform of 1892 on all questions at issue. His speech was loudly applauded all through, and at its close the regular committees were appointed and the preliminary business transacted without feature.

Speech of the Permanent Chairman.

When the organization committee reported after recess Hon. J. G. Lawrence was chosen for permanent chairman. He made a brief address in which he referred to the depressed financial condition of the country, and declared it the logical sequence of the triumph of the Democracy. Capital, he said, assuming that the policy of the Democracy as announced in its platform would be rigidly enforced, began to fortify itself by withdrawing from some enterprises and refusing to assist others. On the subject of silver the speaker declared for bimetallism, and closed by declaring that with the rising of the Republican sun the clouds now obscuring the national sky would be dispersed and a new life and happy day be ushered in.

POINTS FROM THE PLATFORM.

Harrison and the Minneapolis Convention Indorsed—The Liquor Plank.

It was the intention to adopt the platform before any candidates were nominated, but the platform committee was slow and nominations for governor were called for, resulting as stated, in the selection of Jackson for leader. Before other nominations could be made, however, the resolutions committee was announced, and S. M. Clark, editor of the Keokuk Gate City, read the report. It starts out with the assertion that the claims of the Democracy in 1892 have proven false and those of the Republicans true; that not a claim made by the Democracy as to the McKinley law or reciprocity has been justified by events, while the vaunted good results of Democratic triumph have not been made apparent, and calls attention to the present depression as proof.

This depression it is denied is the result of the Sherman law and asserted to be the result of the threat of change in the tariff on the lines of the Democratic platform. As a basis of currency it is held that the law should provide that all money should be of equivalent purchasing power, so that the creditor shall receive no less and the debtor pay no more than was contracted for; summed up this plank demands that all currency shall be kept at equal value, and this is declared to be of the highest importance to workingmen whose wages have been reduced, it is claimed, as the first and inevitable result of Democratic triumph.

General Harrison's adminlstration is endorsed, and the present pension policy denounced, and then the liquor question is disposed of thus: "That prohibition is no test of Republicanism. The general assembly has given to the state a prohibitory law as strong as any that has ever been enacted by any country. Like any other criminal statute its retention, modification, or repeal must be determined by the general assembly, elected by and in sympathy with the people, and to them is relegated the subject to take such action as they may deem just and best in the matter, maintaining the present law in those portions of the state where it is now or can be made efficient, and giving to the localities such methods of controlling and regulating the liquor traffic as will best serve the cause of temperance and morality."

The liquor plank in the platform resulted in a long-drawn out controversy. Pandemonium reigned for the next two hours and speeches were made by a score of delegates. The convention was animated by an exceedingly liberal spirit. The nominee for governor is an anti-Prohibitionist, but the liquor plank in the platform was regarded by many as going too far. The liquor plank as reported was taken to mean an indorsement of local option and Judge J. R. Struble, of Toledo, moved to amend it by striking out the closing portion. But the amendment was defeated—613 to 590—and the platform as a whole adopted by about the same vote.

A night session was held to complete the ticket as given in the foregoing and the convention adjourned sine die. The change in the policy of the party indicated by the vote on the liquor plank is sweeping and the subject of excited comment. The convention's action means the certain repeal of the prohibitory law by the next legislature, as the Democratic party has always opposed it.

CATTLE SHOW AT THE GREAT FAIR.

A Splendid Exhibition for This Country and Canada.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—For three weeks after next Monday the stock pavilion at the fair will be the center of attraction. The prize show of horses, cattle and other fat stock commences on that day and ends Sept. 9. All fancy breeds of cattle will be seen on exhibition from the United States and Canada, but no cattle have been received from Europe. Beginning Aug. 23 1,200 head of the finest cattle on the continent will be seen on exhibition and in competition for the money prizes offered by the exposition.

The sum of $150,000 was appropriated by act of congress for premiums in the live stock department of the exposition and $108,000 for the stables and barns. Of this sum 40 per cent. is to be paid out in awards for horses, 30 per cent. for cattle, 15 for hogs, 12 for sheep and 8 for poultry. In addition to the appropriation of $150,000 for premiums the various associations of fancy stock breeders have offered $40,000 in special premiums and the stock raising states have given as much for the same purpose.

The executive committee of the World's fair has ordered a second payment of 10 per cent, or $444,480, on the bonded indebtedness of the exposition company, and practically decided to hold the parliament of religions, which begins next month, in Music and Festival halls at Jackson park, instead of at the Art Institute on Lake Front park, where all the other congresses have been held.

The ball in Midway Plaisance was a gorgeous affair, and drew a great crowd. All the dances of thirty-five nations were given, the ball being decorated with Oriental magnificence. George Francis Train led the grand march.

Paid admissions continue above the 100,000 mark. Yesterday was rainy in the morning and cloudy a good part of the day, but 110,567 paid their way through the gates.

BOLD CASE OF BLACKMAIL.

But One in Which the Perpetrator Is Soon Identified.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 17.—A bold blackmailing case has just come to light in this city. An old man named Holbrook, 70 years of age, residing on Fifth avenue south and Ninetieth street, says that a day or two ago he received a note to call at a certain house on Fifth avenue on business. He complied, and upon reaching the place he was ushered into a room in which was a woman alone. He says: "She came up and took hold of me and put her face close to mine. Just then the door opened, the woman screamed, and rushed toward the door. A man entered, drawing a revolver, and coming up to me demanded to know what I was doing there.

The woman was in the meantime begging his (her pretended husband's) forgiveness, but he roughly stopped her. With the pistol held to my face the man in a rage demanded money. I told him that I had only $7. He then demanded that I sign a note for $30,000, which I was compelled to do under cover of the revolver." The pair made it appear that they were man and wife, but after being arrested the man admitted that the woman was not his wife. The man turns out to be Fred Chamberlain, of the firm of Wagner & Chamberlain.

MARKED FOR RETRIBUTION.

A Denver Paper Threatens Trouble for the East and Chicago.

DENVER, Aug. 17.—Commenting on a call for a Pan-American bimetallic convention at St. Louis, the Rocky Mountain News says: "From this hour forward in dealing with the piratical cities upon the Atlantic coast there will be an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth. The battle will be in the walks of commercial and industrial life. The time has come when trade relations between the great trans-Mississippi country and New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore should be curtailed to the last possible degree and every effort the west can make should be made to build up markets of international trade upon the Gulf and Pacific coast." The News adds this for Chicago's benefit: "The west and south will never forget Chicago's unreasonably bitter hostility to bimetallism."

Water That Is Good for Dyspeptics.

ENGLISH, Aug. 17.—A fluent spring of water has been discovered on the premises of the Rev. Francis Curry, at Doolittle's mill, which is showing marked peculiarities. It is very cold, but no amount drank by the overheated laborer or animal will cause distress. While it relieves thirst it also incites hunger, and the user of the water is blessed with an appetite which is almost unappeaseable. The water is described at clear, cold and sweet, but so hard as to be unfit for washing purposes.

Trouble in a Cold Water Concern.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—A stormy meeting of stockholders and policyholders of the Total Abstinence Life association was held here to protest against the transfer of the policies held in the association to the General Alliance Association of New York. President Singleton says the concern is insolvent. The trouble was finally referred to a committee, and the court will be asked to permit business to continue for a time.

Scores on the Diamond.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—Base ball playing by League clubs resulted in the following records: At Pittsburg—St. Louis 5, Pittsburg 6; at Cleveland—Cincinnati 4, Cleveland 1; at Chicago—Louisville 11, Chicago 0; at Philadelphia—Boston 4, Philadelphia 0; at Washington—Baltimore 5, Washington 0; at New York—Brooklyn 2, New York 6.

More Indorsement for Altgeld.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—The International Carriage and Wagon Workers have indorsed the clemency of Governor Altgeld in pardoning the anarchists; advised the abolishment of the contract system in public works construction and declared for a federal eight-hour work day.

No Insult to Uncle Sam.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 17.—The village authorities of Niagara Falls, Ont., pronounce the sensational story that Odd Fellows while meeting in grand lodge there had destroyed the American flag and also the American consul's coat of arms as a pure fabrication.

Rowing Regatta at Lake Geneva.

LAKE GENEVA, Wis., Aug. 17.—The winners at the World's fair rowing regatta, first day, were: Junior doubles, Houghton and Mahan, 10:41; junior singles, Smith, 10:45; junior fours, Minnesota, 9:17; junior pair, Dubuques, 16:58½; four-oared gig, Delawares, 11:07.

THEY COUNT NOSES

On the Final Result of the House Silver Struggle.

THE PROPHETS VERY WIDE APART.

Repealers Claim an Impregnable Majority of Twenty-Seven—Harter Fixes the Point of Danger at the Vote on the 20-to-1 Ratio—Three Measures Suggested as a Solution of the Difficulty—Talk in the Two Houses.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The executive committee of the anti-silver forces in the house, appointed at the conference Tuesday, has held a meeting for consultation. A poll of the house has been practically completed by the canvassers in the interests of the anti-silver faction, which is said by one of the leaders to show an impregnable majority of twenty-seven in favor of unconditional repeal of the purchasing clause as provided in the Wilson bill. There is substantial agreement of opinion among the silver and anti-silver leaders as to what is to be the real test of the strength of the two parties on the several questions to be voted on at the close of the present debate, but a wide divergence exists as to the number of votes that would be cast by the two sides thereon.

Harter's "Point of Danger."

Harter estimates that if the house successfully passes what he calls the danger point—the vote on free coinage at a ratio of 20 to 1—the majority for the Wilson bill, which will present the naked question of repeal or no repeal, will be 100 more. On the other hand, Bland says there are representatives who may vote against the coinage of silver at any specified ratio who will not vote to wholly abolish the use of silver as a money metal, which would be the effect, he says, of the passage of the Wilson bill. Harter's doubt as to the result of the vote on the proposition to coin silver at the ratio of 20 to 1 is said to be due to information conveyed to the anti-silver executive committee that there are upward of forty Republicans who will vote for establishing free coinage at that ratio. Bland, however, believes that the ratio of 16 to 1 will be stronger in the house than any other.

Republican Votes in Demand.

There has been some discussion of a tentative proposition to formally invite the co-operation of the Republicans in the effort to repeal the purchase clause of the Sherman law, receiving full credit for their part in securing the success of the effort. It has been decided, however, that this step was inexpedient, being unsatisfactory to both the Democrats and Republicans who believe there is no partisanship in the question. The repeal Democrats, however, readily concede that they must have Republican votes to succeed, and have asked Republicans to come to their aid in the discussion now progressing. Some of the minority have already spoken, and the leaders are now considering the question whether or not they shall speak.

Works of the Financial Doctor.

In the meantime the financial doctor is sending in his prescriptions at a great rate. Peffer, by request, has introduced two bills, one of which provides for the issue of $500,000,00 0 legal tender money on sheets of aluminium or silk threaded paper, as the people may prefer. The amount is to be covered into the treasury as "surplus money" and a call for all the outstanding interest bearing bonds is to be made and they are to be redeemed at par and paid for from the "surplus fund."

Provides for Plenty of Currency.

The second measure is headed "The new silver bill," and directs the secretary of the treasury to purchase all gold and silver bullion and subsidiary coins offered at any price, less the cost of transportation and mintage, without regard to the price in any foreign country. The bullion purchased is to be coined into standard coins at a ratio of 16 to 1. No reserve is to be held, except a sufficiency to meet the general indebtedness of the government. For every dollar of gold and silver coined the government is to issue two dollars in greenbacks to supply the place of national bank notes. No special amount of bullion is to be purchased monthly, but the purchase is to be made so as to keep the mints running at their full capacity. In payments all three kinds of currency are to be used, and discrimination against any special class of it is prohibited.

Manderson's "By Request" Bill.

Manderson has introduced in the senate (by request) a "free minting" bill prepared by a banker of Omaha, Neb. It proposes to fix the price of silver at the mints in the same manner that parliament fixes the price of gold at the Bank of England, and declares it the policy of the government to maintain all its money on the gold standard of value as now fixed by law. It also proposes the appointment of a "mint commission" which shall fix the price of silver and regulate its purchase.

TWO REPRESENTATIVE SPEECHES.

Bryan, the Democratic Silverite, and Henderson of Iowa.

Two representative speeches were made in the house on the silver side. Bryan of Nebraska, who is a Democratic free coiner, was first on the floor and his speech was rapturously applauded by the silver men who held his arguments to be invincible. Henderson of Iowa was the exponent of the "anti silver" view and pleased his friends fully as well as Bryan did his. Bryan said that Cleveland's message meant burial of silver and a single gold standard. Bryan was opposed to a single standard of any kind.

He favored a double standard and argued in support of the retention of the ratio of 16 to 1. His speech was a brilliant oratorical effort. He invoked in eloquent words the memory of Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson as defenders of the people's rights and concluding said: "We stand today, just after the greatest success in the history of the Democratic party; and standing upon this victory-crowned summit will the party turn its face to the rising or the setting sun? Will it choose blessings or cursings, life or death, which? which?" At the conclusion of Bryan's speech there were loud cries of "Vote, vote," and the Nebraska orator was surrounded by his colleagues congratulating him.

Henderson of Iowa said that the most gratifying thing that could reach the people of the United States were the cries of "Vote, vote, vote." The people expected early action if congress was going to act at all. He would be glad to come to a vote at once. Fourteen days had been set aside by the Democrats for debate, but he regretted that so much time had been given. In his opinion the free coinage of silver would drive this country to a silver basis and would eliminate from our circulation the $504,000,000 of gold now circulating in the United States. Democrats had the courage and patriotism to forget the tariff plank of their platform; if they had the courage to tell Cleveland that they would carry out his financial policy and let the tariff alone they would set the wheels of industry going and would give impetus to every branch of business.

There was but one break in the monotony of senate eloquence, and that was when Cockrell offered an amendment to the Voorhees bill, providing for the purchase of United States 2 per cents. with greenbacks, when presented. Sherman said the proposition was poor business. If the bonds were presented the very moment the holders obtained the greenbacks they would take them to the government treasury and demand payment in coin, which would further complicate the situation. Cockrell's purpose was made evident when, in reply to questions, he admitted that nearly all the bonds he wanted redeemed were on deposit by national banks, and their surrender would cut down the national bank currency.

The Lodge resolution was taken up and Gallinger declared himself ready to vote for the repeal of the Sherman act, but thought silver and the Sherman act had infinitely less to do with business depression today than the anticipated onslaught on the McKinley tariff law. His bill gave the Democratic party an opportunity to escape from its own folly. It put off tariff legislation until 1897, when the Republican party would be again in power, the only party in this country that had shown a capacity to deal with great economic questions.

Congressional Summary.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—A petition was presented by Voorhees in the senate protesting against the "manifold iniquities of the present civil service." It came from Cass county, Ind., and Voorhees said that he heartily concurred in its views. The Voorhees financial bill was laid over again, Cockrell offering an amendment providing for the purchase of all the 2 per cent. bonds with greenbacks. They are nearly all deposited in banks as security for currency. Speeches were made on the silver question and the senate held an executive session.

In the house a resolution was adopted calling for the amount of silver purchased under the Sherman law, the lowest and highest price, amount of treasury notes issued, redeemed and reissued, amount redeemed in gold and silver coin, number of "dad's" dollars coined, and amount of silver bullion now in the treasury. Speeches on the silver question occupied the balance of the day.

HITCH IN THE NEGOTIATIONS.

The Santa Fe's Offer to the Coal Miners Not Subject to Amendment.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 17.—The coal operators who went to Chicago to see the Santa Fe railway officials about its coal agent's offer to the miners have returned confident that the railway company's offer to the miners and the acceptance by the strikers Monday will have little or no effect on the strike. All agree in declaring that Devlin, the railway's coal agent, will not consider any acceptance of his offer with a single condition added, and that the conditions proposed by the miners that there shall be no discrimination against men directly or indirectly connected with the strike and that the miners be allowed a weighman, will be equivalent to a rejection. The operators have all sent orders to Alabama for negro miners.

Wouldn't Give Up His Ticket.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 17.—James Watt, a son of Thomas Watt, a wealthy coal and coke dealer, shot and fatally wounded William Hartman, a brakeman of the train on which Watt was a passenger en route to Dunbar on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. W. H. Cotton, a justice of the peace, was shot through the hand, while the bullet intended for Conductor Hunt went wide of the mark. Watt was slightly under the influence of liquor and refused to give up his ticket. During the struggle which ensued Watt drew his revolver and fired with the above result.

Carnegie Cuts Salaries.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 17.—Under date of Aug. 10 a circular was sent to the heads of all departments of the Carnegie Steel company which makes the following cuts in compensation, taking effect Sept. 1, 1893, and applying to every officer and employe of the association excepting those working under wage scales: On salaries exceeding $500 per month 20 per cent., $400 and less than $500 25 per cent., $300 and less than $400 20 per cent., $60 and less than $200 15 per cent., less than $60 per month 10 per cent.

Must Speak English or Quit.

BOSTON, Aug. 17.—At the annual meeting of the Calumet & Hecla Mining company stockholders the same directors who have served since the company started were re-elected. President Agassis in his report said that large numbers of the employes of the mines do not understand English and it was probable that the officials of the company would refuse hereafter to employ men who do not know or will not in a short time learn English.

Hungers for Impeachment.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 17.—The Topeka Advocate, the official state paper, in an editorial demands the impeachment of Secretary Carlisle for having failed to purchase 4,500,000 ounces of silver, under the Sherman law, during the month of July. It says that Secretary Carlisle grossly violated his oath of office, and that President Cleveland is equally guilty and should be impeached at the same time.

Throws 300 Men Out of Work.

CHEROKEE, Kan., Aug. 17.—The large coal works of the Western Coal company at Fleming, a mile northeast of this city, caught fire from a passing locomotive and was burned to the ground. The disaster will throw out of employment about 300 men.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 17.—In a quarrel with his wife, John Stelterite, a laborer in the iron mills at East St. Louis, shot his wife in the head. The bullet flattened against her skull, inflicting a dangerous wound. Stelterite then shot himself in the brain and will die.

Experiments With Durable Woods.

In some tests made with small squares of various woods buried one inch in the ground, the following results were obtained: Birch and aspen decayed in three years; willow and horse chestnut in four years; maple and red beech in five years; elm, ash, hornbeam and Lombardy poplar in seven years; oak, Scotch fir, Weymouth pine and silver fir decayed to a depth of half an inch in seven years; larch, juniper and arbor vitæ were uninjured at the expiration of the seven years.—Chicago Times.

SIXTY FEET DOWN

The Terrible Plunge of a Railway Train.

SUDDEN COLLAPSE OF A TRESTLE.

Seven Persons Killed Out of Sixteen on Board and a Miracle That Any Are Alive—Five Wounded, But Not Seriously Hurt—Frightful Scenes at a St. Paul Fire—One Fatality and Others Badly Injured.

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 17.—A special to The Dispatch from Danville says: An awful accident occurred at the county line trestle, just east of Milton, by which two passenger coaches and a sleeper were precipitated sixty feet into the creek below, killing seven persons outright and wounding a number of others. The train was the regular train bound for Portsmouth. After passing through Milton and going over the trestle, the engineer, Peyton Tunstall, who says he was running at the rate of ten miles an hour, felt the bridge giving way. He threw open the throttle, and the engine, tender, and a box car got safely over, but the passenger car was too late, and the span went down under its weight, the second passenger car and sleeper following.

Broke the Cars to Splinters.

The cars were shivered into kindling wood and the escape of any of the passengers was a miracle. The water in the creek had risen to the depth of twelve or more feet, and it is the general belief that the rise had undermined the foundation of the iron piers, causing the trestle to settle. On the train at the time were about sixteen persons, including the train hands, but only one of the latter—Conductor Morris, of Portsmouth—was killed; none of the others receiving serious injuries. In the sleeper were Mrs. Harvey Giersch, two children and nurse, of Winston, N. C.; Conductor J. L. Sizer, of Richmond, and J. R. Towns, colored porter. The nurse was drowned and the conductor and porter injured.

Statement of Conductor Sizer.

The station agent at Milton heard the crash and immediately gave the alarm by tolling the bell. The people turned out in full force and went to work at once to rescue the dead and injured from the debris. J. L. Sizer, the Pullman conductor, in speaking of the accident said: "I had just gotten through with my collections and had reported to Captain Morris, who had passed forward on the train, and was preparing to retire when the crash came. Fortunately I was in the forward end of my car. Mrs. Giersch's nurse was on the rear end of the car where she was found with her head and chest under the water, and was most probably drowned, as there was no heavy timbers or anything else on her body that might have caused her death."

Heroic Little Girl—List of the Killed.

The little 13-year-old daughter of Mrs. Giersch, not realizing the danger through which she had passed, said: "Don't mind me; I am not hurt; but please take mamma out."

The following is the list of killed: H. Morris, conductor, Portsmouth, Va.; W. R. Ellison, Alton, Va.; J. C. Davies, a farmer of Baskerville, Va.; W. R. Elam, Durham, N. C.; James S. Lowe, railroad conductor from the west, who was a passenger; Thomas Lee (colored), Winston, N. C.; Frances Jenkins (colored), Salem, N. C.

No One Seriously Injured.

Following are the names of the wounded: Mrs. Harvey Giersch, of Salem, N. C., slightly; J. L. Sizer, Richmond, Va., Pullman conductor, foot mashed and hurt slightly in side; J. R. Townes, colored porter on Pullman, slightly bruised about the body; —— Davis, flagman, hurt about head and face and foot sprained. The injuries of none will likely prove fatal. The loss to the company will be very heavy, as the cars and a full span of the bridge will be a total loss.

FEARFUL SIGHT AT A FIRE

Fireman Falls Five Stories and Is Terribly Mangled.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 17.—As the result of a fire which lasted fifteen minutes one fireman is dead and several others injured and the stock of goods of W. J. Dyer & Bro., dealers in musical instruments, 137 East Third street, is ruined. The fire gained very rapid headway, such that a general alarm was turned in and the whole department was soon throwing water on the burning structure. A large number of ladders were run up the back of the building on Second street.

The burning varnish on the musical instruments made such a dense smoke that it made the firemen ill and half a dozen made their way to the ground with difficulty. A thrill of horror ran through the crowd when a fireman was seen to dart head foremost from the fifth story to the alley pavement below. The body was carried into an adjoining doctor's office. It proved to be that of Michael Clonan, of Engine Company No. 3. It was horribly mangled and the fireman only lived a few moments after striking the street.

A few minutes later Jerry Murphy, of engine company No. 3, was seen hanging head-foremost from a fifth-story window in a state of unconsciousness. Five firemen with two ladders went to his rescue with great haste, and with the aid of a rope were able to slide him to the ground. He was badly cut about the head in groping about the building. He is still lying unconscious at the central station.

Captain Jerry Strap, of Engine company No. 8, was taken from the third story in an unconscious condition. His injuries seem to be internal and probably mostly due to the smoke. Chief Jackson and John Devlin, of Engine Company No. 4, were both partially suffocated, but were taken out of the burning building before there were serious results. The loss of W. J. Dyer & Bro. is about $100,000; insured for $103,000.

Opinions on That Decision.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—From a mass of opinions on the Behring sea decision it appears that it depends on who talks as to which party to the case won. Believers in the late Secretary Blaine are sure that the United States got all Blaine was after. In England Salisbury's friends declare his views were the winning ones. Professor Elliott, of the Smithsonian Institute, says the decision, except that it prevents extermination of the seals, is "agin us" from start to finish, while the Canadian sealers think they are "in a hole."

No New Cases of Cholera.

QUARANTINE, S. I., Aug. 17.—There are no new developments at quarantine. All of the patients are convalescent.

He says: "Last summer I had a very severe attack of flux. I tried almost every known remedy, none gives relief, Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy was recommended to me. I purchased a bottle and received almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and was entirely cured. I take pleasure in recommending this remedy to any person suffering with such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existance." 25 and 50 cent bottle for sale by W. D. I got some of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy from Rev. Mr. Chapman. It cured both of them. I knew of several other cases where it was equally successful. I think it cannot be excelled and cheerfully recommended it. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by W. D. Duffin, Druggist.

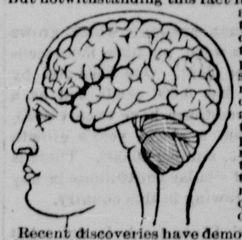
MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the seat of life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord, near the base of the brain, and so sensitive is this portion of the nervous system that even the prick of a needle will cause instant death.



Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. When it is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force.

Two-thirds of chronic diseases are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, not from a derangement primarily originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble.

DR. FRANKLIN MILES, the celebrated specialist, has profoundly studied this subject for over 20 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with it, chief among them being the facts contained in the above statement, and that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong. All headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion, pressure, blues, mania, melancholy, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, etc., are nervous diseases no matter how caused. The wonderful success of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle.

DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

—The common purslane, which grows anywhere as a weed, produces more seeds than any other plant. The hay cured in most excellent condition and is bright and fresh—more so than most of the hay cured in the ordinary way. Mr. Blocker is pleased with the experiment and will pursue the same method in haymaking next year."

—The La Salle Tribune of yesterday gives the particulars of a sad accident at Peru Tuesday evening. The lace curtains in the residence of Mrs. S. M. Maze came in contact with a lamp and caught fire. The lady's niece, Miss Jennie French, a young lady of fifteen, in endeavoring to tear down the curtains, had her clothes caught in the flames, and though the fire was extinguished before she was severely burned externally, she had inhaled the flames and death resulted at three o'clock yesterday morning.

—The tiniest of the little electric lamps for dentists and surgeons is the pea-lamp, about the size of a pea, pear-shaped and of one-half candle power. The minute lamps have a powerful effect. The smallest defect in teeth are made visible, the bones of the face are lighted up sufficiently to reveal any pus cavity in the cheek bones, and the fingers, hand or almost any part of the body may be explored if placed between the eye and a suitably arranged lamp. The stomach is made luminous by passing into it a lamp at the end of a tube. The lamp for studying disease of the bladder is provided with a prism, and this organ is not only lighted but the surface of the interior is actually brought to view in a mirror.

—A recent decision has been rendered by the Attorney-General in regard to the new jury law, which is of considerable interest and is substantially as follows: The law provides that trial must be by jury in all cases tried before justices of the peace in which the penalty of fine or imprisonment may be inflicted, except where the right to a jury is waived in writing by the defendant. The attorney-general's decision is that this law does not apply to proceedings to prevent the commission of crime such as a peace warrant, under which persons may be committed to jail in default of bond.

A BRIGHTER OUTLOOK.

The Amboy Journal, which can have no object in misrepresenting the condition of things in Dixon, truthfully says: "Business depression at Dixon is not so serious as reported by the papers. Merchants in all lines are having a lively trade, the streets are filled with teams and there is no outward appearance of depression. The banks have plenty of money, the factories are starting up, and idle men are becoming scarce."

As we have before stated, Dixon, while it has of course felt the effects of the financial depression in all lines, has been far less seriously affected thereby than most cities. The substantial and conservative character of our citizens, which at one time may have been regarded as an impediment to our rapid progress, has stood us in good stead during a financial crisis largely precipitated upon the country by a lack of confidence. The causes of the depression being mainly artificial, are transitory, and are even now passing away, and with general confidence restored,—which in Dixon has never been seriously shaken,—prosperity will once more return, and with fair crops and a prospective demand in Europe for every ounce of the surplus product of our soil at good prices, there is certainly no reason for a gloomy outlook for the near future. The good times of the past have engendered a degree of extravagance, as is quite natural, among the working classes, who only exceptionally make provision for a sudden change in financial affairs, and when, as in the present case, thousands and tens of thousands throughout the country are thrown out of employment, many temporarily suffer amid scenes of plenty. In such cases but little consolation can be drawn from the fact that the blame largely lies with their own improvidence. Those who have been frugal, and are temporarily embarrassed and unable to meet payments on homes or property in a time like the present, find but little difficulty in making adjustments that will tide them over the sudden pinch. Let all others learn a lesson from passing experience, and let all keep up courage, for the light is breaking. Business in various cities is already reviving The Register-Gazette of Rockford, that bustling manufacturing burg, says it will not be many weeks before the wheels of all her numerous industries will again be running. The Moline factories are preparing to resume work, and many of them have already done so. This is but a sample of the news brought from many points by our daily exchanges.

Those Cranky Georgians.

The Atlanta Constitution abuses President Cleveland without mercy on account of his recent message to Congress, and we may say without sense. Listen to this leading organ of the Southern Democracy:

Mr. Cleveland's message favors and indorses the Republican policy of repeal, and entirely ignores the Democratic policy. If he is right the Democratic party is wrong, and has been wrong for the last twenty years. If he is right, John Sherman and his Republican colleagues are right. * * * *

The duty of Democrats in Congress is plain and easy. They are not in a position to ignore the Democratic policy put forth in the Democratic platform. But Democratic Congressmen cannot hold themselves above their party. The party in the South must be held together. It must continue to present a united front; but it cannot be held together if the people become convinced that the financial policy of the Democrats is identical with that of John Sherman and the Republican party.

What nonsense have we here. The Atlanta Constitution understood before the recent presidential election as well as it understands now how President Cleveland stood on the silver question and it is hypocritical to talk in that sort of a strain. Furthermore that leading organ of the Southern Democracy knew that one of the prominent planks in the Chicago platform was a pledge to repeal the silver purchasing act of Congress. Why did the Constitution with all the energy in its power support such a policy in regard to silver as it now so severely condemns? Do the editors suppose that the pledges of its party were made only to be broken? THE TELEGRAPH may here remark that we are about these days receiving extra doses of swash from the partisan press.

These free silver men supported Mr. Cleveland with the full understanding, granting that they are blessed with a very slight amount of common sense, that he whould advocate a policy precisely in the line of argument used in his recent message to Congress, and therefore it is very stupid in them to complain. If they took him for a demagogue and are disappointed they should not kick so spitefully because he does not agree with them in playing the hypocrit. Furthermore: The Atlanta Constitution will find that a little more Shermanism will in the future as in the past be the making of Georgia. The medicine tastes bad in the mouth at first, but it is good for the health and braces up the "Constitution."

—But one or two cases of persons living for years with a broken or dislocated neck have been anthenticated. Here is another to add to the list: "Harry Sanderson, a Jones county farmer, fell from a load of hay and broke, or rather dislocated his neck between the third and fourth vertebræ. He also broke the pivot between the first and second vertebræ, and also the ligament which holds the head in an erect position. The Moticello Express says he was rendered insensible for a few minutes only after the fall. He tried to walk but could not, his head falling on his breast. Doctors were called and administered temporary treatment, by placing the head and neck in a plaster of paris cast. The patient feels cheerful, eats hearty and smokes his pipe. It is thought he may live if inflamation of the spinal cord does not set in. It is a remarkable case.

—They tell a good story on an Irish banker. During a run on his bank recently he ordered his assistant to take a bushel of five dollar gold pieces and heat them hot on a stove. The coins were then brought in and passed to creditors by means of tongs. When the latter complained, the son of Erin replied that they had a machine in the back room for grinding out the coin, but if they could not wait until it got cool they would be obliged to take it red hot. It stopped the run on the bank and established confidence. An Irishman's wit is a wonderful thing.—Somanauk Reveille.

FUGACES ANNI.

Oh, my love, my queen of May,
The light of youth is gone.
Thy balmy tresses gather gray.
Thy rosy lips are wan.
Will thy true eyes alter yet
And their nuptial smile forget?

Oh, my love, will Time deceive,
Will he wither true love so?
There is more in love, believe,
Than the silly nations know;
More in love, when bloom is dead,
Than the rose wreath round his head.

Oh, my love, and if thou need
Harbor when the north winds blow;
If thy tender footprints bleed
On the flints among the snow,
Love will raise a sheltered cot,
Where the ice blast enters not.

Oh, my true love, we are wise;
When snow whitens on our land
Underneath the cloudy skies
We will travel hand in hand,
Since we have not far to go
To our rest beyond the snow,

—Lord de Tabley.

Individual Freedom.

There is greater individual freedom in Great Britain and her colonies than in America. For instance, every Sunday small knots of men may be seen in the principal London parks, giving expression to the most varied sentiments on matters political, social and religious, and language painful to the great majority of the people is constantly being used. No restriction is ever placed on such expressions of opinion, so long as they are uttered on sites designated by the police, where there can be no obstruction to traffic or danger of intimidation being exercised. In America, however, no meetings of any kind are permitted in these open spaces.

In Central park, New York, no one may even pick up a leaf without danger of fine or imprisonment. No one may walk on the grass unless he is playing a game. I barely escaped arrest for walking on the carriage drive. The police march about with their batons out—often swinging them—and appear to regard themselves more as the masters than the servants of the people.—Earl of Meath in Nineteenth Century.

Wendell Phillips' Power.

The writer heard Wendell Phillips once on the nobility of the North American Indians, and while the spell of the speech lasted he was almost ashamed of himself for being white instead of copper colored. One secret of the power of Phillips with an audience was that he was always definite, certain in his statements and position. If he had privately doubts about a course or a policy, he never exhibited them when on the platform. He very well knew that there is nothing an audience likes so little in a speaker as indecision and beating about the bush. There was no haziness in what he said. His subject stood out before his hearers as clearly cut as a cameo. —Charles Dudley Warner in Harper's.

The Minister Agreed.

During the war an Ohio minister was on his way south as an emissary of the Christian commission, and he boarded an Ohio river boat at Portsmouth. At the first landing below, the mate "turned loose" at the deckhands. He cursed their eyes, their hearts, their lubbery feet, their laziness, their whole line of ancestry from Adam to that hour. Finally, exhausted with profanity, he turned to the shocked minister with the query:

"Don't this beat hell?"

"Yes, sir, I'm afraid it does." And the good man retired to his cabin.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

IN THE FRENCH ARMY.

Social Rank Cuts a Very Slight Figure When Promotions Are Made.

The first and most salient point in the French army seen from within is the mixture of social ranks. Now this mixture, which might in many societies be a source of weakness, may be said here to be one of the principal causes of the recuperation of the country. It is, I believe, a unique experiment to lay the military law equally upon the shoulders of every citizen of whatever rank he may be.

The nearest approach to the French universal conscription is to be found in Germany, but even there the absolute equality of men before the law is far from holding good. Promotion from the ranks is almost unknown. The rich, who can afford a university education for their sons and who can pay a sum of money to the government, are exempt from all serious soldiering. These young men pass a few weeks in barracks and afterward attend a specified time of drill, while they are allowed to lodge outside quarters and follow their ordinary civil occupations in the university. This lasts, if I am not mistaken, for one year, after which term they pass into the reserve as officers.

Under the French law every man without exception serves in the army for at least one year. During that year he is merged entirely in the private soldier. His social rank, if he has one, is completely ignored, the officers who command him regard merely his efficiency and his faithfulness to duty, and if any difference is made between a man of some education and the peasants around him it is in the direction of putting him into the peloton d'instruction—a species of school drill—where he may earn in six months or a year the grade of corporal, but in which, on account of the extra duties the place involves, the life is harder in manual labor and has less free time than that of the unambitious trooper outside.

It must not be inferred from this that the peloton d'instruction stands apart. It is held merely during the hours which are otherwise free time. Nor must it be imagined for a moment that a man of a richer class than his fellows necessarily belongs to it, or that men of such a class form the majority of its members. There may be in a company or battery from six to eight eleves caperaux and in a whole regiment less than that number of gentlemen.

The elevation to the grade of reserve officer is also proceeded with in a manner very different from that obtaining in Germany. The places in the reserve are given in part to retired officers of the active army and in part to those men who have followed the peloton d'instruction for at least one year and who at the end of that time are competent to pass a special examination.—Contemporary Review.

The Growth of the Postal System.

Less than 50 years ago there was really no postal system in this country. Previous to 1847 the mails were carried by private firms, and rates varied according to distance. Carriers often traveled on foot or horseback, and the progress was slow. In 1846 some of the post offices issued stamps of their own, called "provisional issues." The adhesive stamp was first used in this country in 1847, and prepayment was made compulsory in 1856. In 1868 the stamp containing the head of Andrew Jackson was issued, and from then until 1885 the style adopted contained the profiles of presidents of the United States.—Public Opinion.

An Easy Conundrum.

A conundrum club had been started, and every one was expected to come prepared with a number of good ones.

"I have one," Anderson said.

"What is it?" queried the rest.

"When is an apple pie?"

He stopped, and every one looked at him, but said nothing.

"Well," asked a man across the room, "go on. What did you stop for?"

"Go on? Where? What for?" he asked.

"Why, go on with your conundrum. When is an apple pie what?"

"That's what I said," he replied.

"Well, we know, but what is the conundrum?"

"When is an apple pie?"

"There isn't any sense in that," put in another. "What's the rest of it?"

"There isn't any rest," persisted Anderson. "When is an apple pie?"

"When is an apple pie what?" yelled the others.

"Who said any apple pie what?"

"You did."

"I didn't. I didn't say anything about an apple pie."

"You did."

"I didn't."

"You did."

"I didn't."

And then the whole assembly rose against Anderson, and when the police came in and rescued him it took half an hour to explain that apple was pie when it was closed up with sugar and crust and things, like any pastry.—Exchange.
